

The future of Dodgeville is in your hands ... which direction shall we take?

This is your opportunity to share your thoughts by participating in the planning survey explained below.

1911, Looking North, Dodgeville, Wis. Photo by E. C. Bell

As part of the City of Dodgeville's on-going Comprehensive Planning process, Southwestern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (SWWRPC) is conducting a community survey to gather opinions about potential services and developments within the City of Dodgeville. This survey, an extension of the 14 input and listening sessions held from June to September, will provide input specifically directed at the goals, objectives, and strategies generated during these meetings.

You can access the survey online at the City of Dodgeville & the Dodgeville Public Library websites. Paper copies available at Dodgeville City Hall & the Dodgeville Public Library.

