

UPCOMING LIBRARY EVENT...

An Evening with David Krugler

Wed. Oct 19th at 7 pm

at the Dodgeville Public Library

Free Admission / Books for Sale

Refreshments will be served

For more information contact:

Friends of the Dodgeville Public Library

at friendsofdodgevillelibrary@gmail.com

In a gripping World War II mystery, a young naval intelligence officer goes undercover to solve a murder and prevent the Soviets from stealing the secrets of America's atomic bomb project.

Author Talk: David Krugler will be discussing his latest book, "The Dead Don't Bleed" on Oct. 19th at the Dodgeville Public Library. This novel is the first in a planned series of World War II spy thrillers featuring Lieutenant Ellis Voigt of the Office of Naval Intelligence. Dr. David Krugler is the author of three books on modern U.S. history and a novel, The Dead Don't Bleed. He teaches at the University of Wisconsin--Platteville, where he is a professor of history. <http://www.davidkrugler.com/>
This event sponsored by the Friends of the Dodgeville Library

DODGEVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY

608 935-3728

139 S. Iowa St., Dodgeville, WI