

Windows into Gaza...

our discussion continues...

Join us to discuss Miral

by Rula Jebreal

"I simply wanted to tell my story and the story of my family. It's not an accusation; it's a love letter to my country and for many girls—Israeli and Palestinian," Jebreal says. "Education saved my life. I'm promoting peace and education." Rula Jebreal

- DATE / TIME: Feb. 17, 2012 at 1:00 pm
- LOCATION: Dodgeville Public Library
- FACILITATOR: Vincent Kavaloski
- SPONSORED BY: Grassroots Citizens for Peace & the Dodgeville Public Library

Plot Summary: As a young girl the title character, Miral, is sent into the care of Hind Hussein, the real-life founder of Dar al-Tifl, a home in Jerusalem which began as a refuge for children who survived the massacre by Zionist forces in the village of Deir Yassin. The narrative centers on the lives of four women: Hussein; Miral's mother Nadia; Fatima, a Palestinian woman jailed for an attempted bombing of an Israeli cinema; and Miral herself growing up during the first intifada.

For more information check out the following websites: Grassroots Citizens for Peace at http://www.grassrootswi.org/citizens_for_peace/ or Dodgeville Public Library at <http://dodgevillelibrary.com>
The Dodgeville Public Library is located at 139 South Iowa Street in Dodgeville, Wisconsin.